$505,977.24, or $110,127.24 more than the aggregate estimate of this year. The estimate for the year 1888, for the State fund was $447,850 00, while the actual receipts were $779,000 21. In the amount of actual receipts, however, were included $27,087 00 transferred from the public building Fund, $75,000 00, temporary loans from banks, and $90,332 53 received from railroad companies on account of county, district and municipal taxes in excess of the estimate made for those purposes, which amounts if deducted from $779,000 21, will make the actual receipts at the Treasury the actual receipts at the Treasury from all sources of revenue for the State Fund $570,980 08 or $132,130 68 greater than the estimate for this year. The ac-tual receipts at the Treasury from gen-eral State, license and charter taxes during this fiscal year exceeded the estimated ing this fiscal year exceeded the estimated receipts from these sources $12.8,565.30. This fact, together with receipts from other sources not embraced in the estimate for the year, will account for the sum of $132,130.05 above stated.

The estimated probable receipts at the treasury for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1889, are as follows:

CRIMINAL CHARGES. There was expended on this account during the fiscal year ending September, 1887, $117,632 40, and for the year ending September, 1888, $25,852 87, or $183, 410 43 for the two years.

Althorate two years.

With but three exceptions, all the railroad companies made full payment of the taxes assessed against them for the year 1887, within the time required by law. The companies which failed to do so, are the Laurel Fork & Sand Hill, Paint Oreck and Hawkes Nest. The delinquent taxes of these roads are in the hands of Sheriffs for collection. The amount of general State tax collected thereon was $38,800 05, general School tax $14,750 30, County tax $100,023 85, District tax $02,885 06, and Municipal tax $13,422 62. Total for all purposes, $227,978 84.

$227,978 84. FORFEITED LANDS,

In my report for the years 1885 and 1886, I called attention to this subject, and I now sgain most respectfully and carnestly recommend that the law with reference to the sales and redemption of forfeited lands be amended, so as to require regular and stated reports to be made to this office, showing how each tract or lot of land was disposed of, together with all the material facts connected therewith, which information is commissioner of school lands may be properly charged with the amounts due the State from him. I would suggest that such legislation be enacted as will require this class of lands to be sold for cash, as much trouble and delay result from sales on credit.

TAXATION.

The Auditor's report thows that the total value of real estate in West Virginia for the year 1888 is $119,414,434, and the personal property of every kind $44,409,252. He says it seems that if a just and fair valuation could be obtained, that the wealth of our State in personal property would equal, if not exceed, that of real estate. Some means should be devised by which such property can be properly listed and made to share its just burden of the government.

The changes made in this morning's quotations over those last reported are again sufficiently numerous to give considerable interest, as a perusal of them will prove. The several departments are viewed shows the following condition of affairs: White there is not much call for wheat, there is but tittle offering, and millers report that it is difficult to get good milling goods below prices quoted, although it is too high as compared with the prices of flour. The market for both corn and oats has been steadled up slightly owing to increased receipts, but as yet there has been to improvement in prices. Itsy is more active and firmer and prices are likely to advance. The local flour market continues quiet, while prices remain unchanged.

In the grocery department the coffee markets are everywhere arong again and the tendeucy is upward. An advance of one-half cent on fins rosated grades has taken place since our last report. All the reports of stocks at home, affoat and abroad and the general statistical position of market is firm at the late editance. The local flour matched and sold position of market is firm at the late editance. The local flour state of position and continues, fair.
